

Therapy Animal Implementation Guide

Updated March 2021

The purpose of this guide is to provide detailed information and explanation on therapy animal program implementation within the Douglas County School District (hereinafter referred to as “DCSD”).

I. WHAT IS ANIMAL - ASSISTED INTERVENTION (AAI)?

Animal-assisted interventions are goal oriented and structured interventions that intentionally incorporate animals in health, education and human service for the purpose of therapeutic gains and improved health and wellness. Animal-assisted therapy (AAT), animal-assisted education (AAE) and animal-assisted activities (AAA) are all forms of animal-assisted interventions. In all these interventions, the animal may be part of a volunteer therapy animal team working under the direction of a professional or an animal that belongs to the professional him/herself.

If you are interested in implementing an Animal Assisted Intervention program with a certified therapy dog in your school or if you have any questions, please complete the Therapy Animal Request Form and/or contact Anja Croon at acroon@desdk12.org

II. IMPLEMENTATION PROCESS

In order to implement a therapy animal program at school, several planning steps must be taken before the animal can be permitted to the school. Please note, that DCSD does not approve therapy animal programs throughout the year due to all the preparations that need to take place and DCSD training that needs to be completed beforehand. Deadlines for submitting a Therapy Animal Request Form are the 1st of August or the 30th of December. (All permissions received after the 1st of August will be put on hold until mandatory training, in January is completed (if, applicable), animals will not be permitted while authorization is on hold).

Process steps

- Get approval from the building principal.
- Review Policy, Guide and Procedures
 - Complete requirements established within the DCSD Therapy Animal Policy.
- Certify yourself and your animal through a recognized organization. See Page 6.
 - Animals that are trained by Pet Partners are only allowed 2 hours a day for volunteer work in a location other than the handler's workplace. Pet Partner trained animals are not permitted to be used as part of professional activities at the request of Pet Partners.
- Obtain Professional Liability Coverage for yourself and the certified animal. (DCSD recommends a minimum coverage of $1MM) (DCSD funds (P-cards) are not permitted to be used to purchase a liability insurance for the animal.)
 - School Social Workers: National Association of Social Workers offers Professional Liability Coverage with a Canine Therapy Ryder
 - Consider looking through your Homeowners policy for coverage
 - Lockton Insurance Covers Animal Assisted Therapy
 - HPSO also covers Animal Assisted Therapy
 - The majority of these providers require the provider to be in a therapeutic profession and/or have some form of education/certification in AAI
- Complete the DCSD Therapy Animal Request Form and attach all required documents to the form.(Including the Memorandum of Understanding) The ADA Manager will be in contact with you, after form and documents have been received. (Please do not submit form without required documents)
- Attend Professional Development Training (approximately 4 hours)
 - Session facilitated by DCSD AAI Committee
- Do a walk-through of the building with the ADA Manager/AAI Committee to help implement the program.
 - Set up a meeting between handler and school administration to go over questions, concerns and ensure that the program is ethical and in the best interest of the school, the animal, staff, student and community.

- Identify areas in the school the animal will be working
 - Identify restricted areas (i.e. Cafeteria, nurse's office, etc.)
 - Designate an area where the animal can go in a crisis situation
 - Establish what will happen with the animal in case of a crisis situation
 - Designate a person that you could hand off the therapy animal to in case of a crisis in which the handler becomes unavailable to meet the needs of the student and keep the animal safe.
- Work with custodial staff to schedule extra cleanings of utilized areas
- Identify students that would be consistently working with the therapy animal
 - Contact families
 - Provide Permission Slip (see Appendix)
 - Establish goals and specific interventions for each student
- School administration must inform school community
- School administration must announce program to the student body
 - Explain who the animal is and why they are at school
 - Include expectations and boundaries with students
 - Ask to pet
 - No running, yelling, unsafe behavior around animals, etc.
- Begin introducing your animal on a part time schedule once approval is received.

III. RENEWAL OF THERAPY ANIMAL APPROVAL

Therapy animal program permissions must be renewed before a new school year starts!

Please complete and submit the following:

- The Therapy Animal Renewal Request Form
- Updated Vaccination Record, if applicable.
- A copy of the updated liability insurance coverage, if applicable.
- Current therapy dog certification (only needed if the one on record is expired)
 - (must be recertified every two years)
- Ensure student health records for possible allergies were checked with the school nurse.
- School community communication must be sent to ensure all new families receive the opportunity to voice their concerns.
- New Memorandum of Understanding must be signed by the handler - the ADA Manager will send the document to the handler once the request form was received.

IV. RECOGNIZED THERAPY ANIMAL CERTIFICATION AND AAI CERTIFIED ORGANIZATIONS

➤ Professional Therapy Dogs of Colorado (PTDC)

- Available for all school professionals (mental health, teachers, administrators, etc).
- PTDC offers pre-screenings to see where your dog is at in the process. They also offer a 2 day seminar in which the handler is able to learn more about the implementation process and ways to keep both your therapy dog and your clients safe
- PTDC also provides you with a manual to help with implementation
- PTDC also offers continued support of you and your Therapy Animal; they also require you to re-certify your dog every two years to make sure they are still enjoying their work as a Therapy dog.
- Do not provide liability insurance.
- Cost = $300 (includes pre-screen, 2 day workshop, manual, test and certification)
- www.professionaltherapydogsofcolorado.com

➤ Pawsitive Therapeutic Interventions (PTI)

- Available for all school professionals (mental health, teachers, administrators, etc).
- Offer canine assisted therapy workshops, which certify humans and their dog.
- PTI offers a 1-day seminar that focuses on different techniques to implement AAI in your practice.
- In order to be certified through PTI your dog must first be Canine Good Citizen Certified (Which can be done at a local PetSmart or Petco) once they are certified as a CGC.
- PTI requires recertification every year and offers support throughout your dog's career
- Do not provide liability insurance
- Cost = $300 (includes 1 day seminar, test and certification)
- <http://www.pawsitivetherapeutic.org/>

➤ Alliance of Therapy Dogs (ATD)

- Available for all school professionals (mental health, teachers, administrators, etc).
- National organization that certifies both professional and volunteer teams
- Requires teams to volunteer at least every 3 months
- Offer liability insurance through their agency

- Test includes tester/observer monitoring handler and dog three times at a facility that include two visits to a medical facility
 - Cost = $40 initial registration fee (possible added fees for certification test)
 - www.therapydogs.com
- Faithfully K9 Service Dog and Dog Training
- Available for all school professionals (mental health, teachers, administrators, etc).
 - Work with highly experienced dog trainers with experience in service and therapy dog training.
 - Requires recertification every two years.
 - Do not provide liability insurance.
 - Cost = $50/hour/session
 - Number of sessions depends on each individual dog and handler team
 - www.faithfullyk9.com
- University of Denver-Institute for Human Animal Connections
- Does not certify animal. Offers high level education and certification in Animal Assisted Interventions for professionals.
 - The Institute for Human-Animal Connection (IHAC) intentionally elevates the value of the living world and the interrelationship and health of people, other animals and the environment. This is accomplished through natural and social science-informed education, applied knowledge, research and advocacy, with an ethical regard for all species.
 - Cost=$3,500 (Online program with one weekend held, in person, at DU)
 - Nationally recognized certification programs
 - <https://www.du.edu/humananimalconnection/index.html>
- Pet Partners (Volunteer activities only)
- Pet Partners Therapy Animal Program is a Volunteer-Based Program in which pet owners donate their time to share their animals in the community free of charge. This program is not designed for those using the animal in a professional setting and will therefore have no insurance coverage through Pet Partners
 - Permission through Pet Partners only for 2 hours of volunteer work outside of working hours.
- ROAR Therapy dogs program (Volunteer activities only)
- This organization is non-profit for volunteers who want to provide services with therapy animals in senior facilities or with one-on-one reading programs in schools.
 - ROAR provides training and certification and screening

- United K9s - Therapy K9 Certifications (Approved for SRO Services only)
 - Offer certification that focuses on evaluating handler/K9 to work as therapy K9 in the areas of child victimization and recovery. Helping with recovering child victims, helping veterans and first responders suffering from anxiety disorders, or the school community in need of animal assisted therapy.
 - United K9s certification also helps with children with behavioral and emotional disabilities.
 - 2-year certification for animal
 - Handler must be certify with a K9 separately
 - 24 hrs of CEU includes:
 - Visits to court with K9 for Court Therapy
 - Visits to schools with K9
 - Responding Law Enforcement business
 - Presentation to any public group (church, Boy/Girl Scouts, Clubs etc)
 - K9 First Aid
 - First Responder First Aid
 - First Responder Pathogens
 - Crime Scene Preservation
 - Anu recognized college CEU
 - Nationally recognized certification program

V. ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

The relationship between a handler and their therapy animal should be mutually beneficial; meaning that the Handler, the animal and the clients working with the animal are all benefiting from the working relationship.

Five Freedom's

- 1) Freedom from Hunger and Thirst
- 2) Freedom from discomfort
- 3) Freedom from pain, injury or disease
- 4) Freedom from fear and distress
- 5) Freedom to express species specific behavior (normal behavior)

Introducing your animal

You know your animal.

You know your school/program.

This is a detailed suggestion that you may want to follow to ensure your animal enjoys the experience and in turn, the program benefits your school. You want your animal to want to come to work and enjoy his/her time there. Integrating the animal too fast may overwhelm the animal and create behaviors due to the stress of a school environment. Do your best to anticipate and prepare your animal for all encounters. There are going to be situations that your animal may encounter that are unexpected/out of your control; do your best in preparing for how to respond to those situations/create a safety plan for the unexpected.

* Time each day should be determined based on how the animal is responding to the environment. Some stress is okay and is expected-this is new! If your animal is shying away, hiding, growling, etc. it may be time to end the day. If they are having fun and clearly enjoying their time, keep it going! You may need to repeat steps/days if your animal is showing signs of high stress.

As a reminder, the animal must be approved by the district and school principal before the first day the animal will be present in school. This process is not required but highly recommended.

DAY 1:

- Walk animal around school but do not enter
 - Play with animal
 - Lots of treats/fun

DAY 2:

- Enter building on a day when no one else is present.
 - Hang out in the room where your animal will spend most of their time
 - Set the expectations immediately
 - Stay on leash, practice commands, etc.
 - Have the animal spend time in their “area”
 - A crate or other enclosure is ideal as it is an area the animal can “escape” to when it needs space or an area they can be when they are not interacting with students/staff
 - The animal should know that this is a space that they can go to and not be bothered; this is their safe place.
 - Lots of treats/fun

DAY 3:

- Enter building on a day when no one else is present
 - Walk around the school and have the animal become familiar with all the areas he/she may work
 - Practice commands and other activities that are fun for the animal that you may use while he/she is working
 - Do not go into areas that are restricted to the animal
 - Cafeteria, classrooms, bathrooms, etc.
 - Going into these areas may confuse them of their boundaries
 - Lots of treats/fun

DAY 4:

- Arrange to have a few trusted staff members in the building that your animal may interact with frequently and introduce your animal appropriately
 - Have these people provide treats for your animal when he/she interacts with them appropriately
 - Make it fun and engaging, but make sure to establish expectations for how you want your animal to interact with people at work
 - If there will be times that the animal will be in its crate while you're not in the room, create opportunity for that to happen
 - Lots of treats/fun

DAY 5:

- Come in on a staff work day
 - Introduce your animal to a small group of staff at a time both out in the hallways and in their primary work area
 - Continue to be consistent with work expectations
 - Your animal should know the difference between how to act when working vs not.
 - Spend some time in your office/classroom and let the animal get used to the many sounds and smells that come about with people in the building
 - If there will be times that the animal will be in their crate while you're not in the room, create opportunity for that to happen
 - Lots of treats/fun

DAY 6:

- One more staff work day
 - Repeat the same strategies as Day 5.
 - Work through any behaviors or stressors that may have arisen
 - Before 100's to 1000's of students arrive, your animal should be comfortable with the 40-150 adults in the building
 - Practice utilizing your designated person and safety procedures
 - Make it all fun!
 - Continue to practice commands and, if possible, facilitate a group/session with staff. It will be fun and helpful for the staff to see what type of work you and your animal will be doing with students.

Next step is to bring your animal in on a school day.

- If there are still concerning behaviors and/or your animal is showing signs of high levels of stress, repeat day 6 as many times as needed. Please do not rush this process as the more patient and thorough you are, the more comfortable your animal will be which will make a huge difference in the success of the program.

DAY _____ :

- School Day!
 - Do not have your animal meet with students quite yet, if possible.
 - More new sounds and smells to experience
 - Walk around the halls when students are in their classrooms
 - Limit interactions, just allow him/her to get used to the environment and energy that comes with a school full of people
 - Lots of treats/fun
- Allow this process to take as much time as needed
 - Be mindful of how your animal may feel in this environment and how overstimulating this experience can be

DAY _____ :

- Individual interventions
 - Start with a few students each day whose behaviors are expected and have had interactions with animals throughout their life
 - Make sure to pick students that will follow the rules and listen to you in terms of how to act with the animal.
 - Allow the animal to interact how they want to
 - Don't force an interaction
 - Don't forget the 5 Freedoms
 - Make it all fun!
 - Lots of treats/fun

Keep a routine as much as possible. At this point, you may have learned some new things about your animal; how they show stress, how they show excitement/joy, their favorite people in the school, etc. Keep reading what your animal is communicating to you and advocate for their needs. Remember, if your animal is enjoying their job, it will be a mutually beneficial experience for everyone and you will be amazing at the impact you and your animal will have on your clients, coworkers and the school climate overall!

APPENDIX - SAMPLE LETTERS

SAMPLE LETTER FOR STUDENTS WITH ALLERGIES

Good Morning,

My name is _____ and I am the _____ at _____ School. We are starting a new program here at _____ that includes a therapy animal _____ (enter animal species) coming into our building to work with students that benefit from social/emotional support.

Your child is on our list as having an allergy to animals so I wanted to touch base with you to inform you of this program and gather any questions/concerns you may have before this program begins.

We will be doing everything we can to be considerate of your child's allergy including ensuring that your child does not come into contact with fur/dander/saliva by limiting the areas where the animal will be working, having students that do interact with the animals wash their hands after each interaction and being aware of any reactions your child may have as a result of the animal working within the building.

A letter will be sent out to the entire school community about this program within the next couple of weeks.

Please contact me with any questions/concerns!
Thank you!

SAMPLE LETTER TO FAMILIES

Date:

Dear Parents/Guardians:

_____ School is excited to announce that an Animal-Assisted Intervention (AAI) program is coming to the school to promote social/emotional well-being. AAI is a goal directed intervention, in which an animal that meets specific criteria is an integral part of the treatment process. This intervention will include a certified professional working within their scope of competency. AAI is designed to promote improvement in human physical, social, emotional, behavioral, and cognitive functioning.

The program may include small group and individual interventions focused on social and emotional wellness and humane education. The _____ department at _____ will utilize this program through research based practice and interventions specific to the needs of students.

The therapy dog and its handler have been insured for liability and have undergone extensive training and certifications for animal-assisted interventions.

Should you have any other questions, concerns or comments, please call/email

Sincerely,

*Include a picture of you and your dog!

SAMPLE LETTER - Permission Slip For Animal-Assisted Interventions (AAI)

Animal-assisted interventions (AAI) are goal oriented and structured interventions that intentionally incorporate animals in health, education and human service for the purpose of therapeutic gains and improved health and wellness. Animal-assisted therapy (AAT), animal-assisted education (AAE) and animal-assisted activities (AAA) are all forms of AAI.

AAT is a goal directed intervention, in which an animal that meets specific criteria is an integral part of the treatment process. This intervention will include a certified professional working within their scope of competency. AAT is designed to promote improvement in human physical, social, emotional, behavioral, and cognitive functioning.

AAA's provide opportunities for motivational, educational, recreational, and therapeutic benefits to enhance quality of life. They are delivered in a variety of environments in association with animals that meet specific criteria.

Although every individual is different, some people who have participated in AAI have experienced the following benefits:

- Animals help improve motivation and engagement in therapy, they build trust and provide a sense of security.
- Animals help in the areas of focus and attention.
- Animals offer unconditional acceptance, and humor and fun in the session as they help facilitate play
- Animals can act as symbols and metaphors in the client's life
- Animals act as agents of de-arousal as they help students learn soothing and calming skills.
- Animals can be a source of social and emotional support.
- Animals can act as objects of attachment.
- Animals can be instruments of learning.

Although AAI comes with many benefits, it also comes with risks. When working with animals, we cannot be 100% sure that their behavior will always be predictable. We will follow the policies and procedures in regards to animal participation. The animal participating has been medically screened and has passed an evaluation through a recognized organization. I, and anyone who might claim on my behalf, release staff from liability of any kind arising out of personal injury, and property damage resulting from my participation in AAI at _____ School.

I assume all the foregoing risks and accept personal responsibility for all expenses, medical or otherwise following any such damages or injuries, which may in any way, be associated with my participation in AAI through _____ School.

Student Participation Contract For Animal-Assisted Interventions

1. I agree to try my hardest while working with the therapy dog at _____ school. This includes following safety procedure for meeting a dog for the first time. The procedure is to ask for verbal permission from the handler, if granted, allow the dog to smell the top of your hands, and then pet him/her on the neck or an area where the animal can see your hand.
2. When you are meeting a dog for the first time, never stare directly into his/her eyes because dogs read this as a challenge or potential threat.
3. Remain calm while in the dog's presence.
4. Always follow adult direction while with an animal.
5. Always wash hands or use hand sanitizer after you have contact with the dog.
6. Never give the animal something to eat without the permission from the handler.
7. When giving a dog treat, use the open hand method.
8. If you are not following directions or being unsafe with the animal, you may lose the opportunity to work with the therapy dog.
9. If you have questions, please ask!
10. If you are uncomfortable in a situation, use your voice to express this.
11. Students will always be accompanied by an adult while with the animal.
12. I will be aware of what the animal needs by listening, observing, and learning about the animal.
13. If I become angry or frustrated, I will verbalize this to the adult and ask for what I need.
14. Participation with the animal is always a choice.
15. It is ok to take a time out. Please make this request if needed.
16. Please ask for help when needed.
17. Have fun and stay safe!

I have read the following contract with my parents/guardian and agree to follow these expectations.
