Parents and Staff:

According to the National Hurricane Center, Tropical Depression #9 is currently located in the Caribbean Sea, and is expected to strengthen. The Hurricane Center’s probable path, which is subject to change, indicates that the system will make landfall on Florida’s southwest coast early Wednesday, September 28, 2022.

The School District of Palm Beach County is closely monitoring the storm and its track.

Any time severe weather has the potential of impacting Palm Beach County, the District works with national, state, and county management officials, including the Palm Beach County Emergency Management Center, to determine how school operations may be impacted and if/when school-based shelters will open.

Our top priority is to ensure the safety of our students, employees, and the community at large. We will continue to monitor the storm throughout its course, and will provide updates as needed through the District’s website, social media, and alerts through the ParentLink system.

Parents and guardians will receive email and/or phone updates using the contact information provided to their child’s school. District employees will receive emergency notifications based on the contact information provided in PeopleSoft.

As you know, this Monday, September 26 is a District-designated fall holiday and schools will be closed. Please note that District offices will be open. Any potential storm-related scheduling changes impacting schools next week will be considered as the storm’s track progresses.

Thank you for your support of the School District of Palm Beach County.
