BHS Hosts Family Workshop

The Binghamton City School District and BHS administration will host a virtual Family Workshop for high school families and faculty on topics surrounding safety on Thursday, Jan. 20. We will be joined by Binghamton Police Chief Joseph Zikuski and Binghamton Mayor Jared Kraham as we discuss topics surrounding social-emotional and physical safety, including progressive discipline, family communication, community safety, open-campus lunch, and opportunities for students and families. The meeting is open to families, faculty and staff, and will take place from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. via Zoom. Please use this link to register in advance to assist in the planning of the event.

In the event you are unable to participate in the workshop, we encourage you to complete the following survey. The survey will close Jan. 24. The results of both the workshop and survey will be shared with the BHS community. We encourage and appreciate your participation.

Educating, empowering and challenging all students to become productive, global citizens through innovative approaches to learning.
