Update on Mask Mandates in New York State

This afternoon, Governor Hochul made an announcement that the mask mandate would be dropped for private businesses on Thursday, Feb. 10. However, the mask mandate is still in place for schools. The governor said she would be reassessing the school mask mandate after students return from February break. Thank you for your patience and flexibility while we navigate this fluid situation. The health and safety of our students and staff is our highest priority and we will keep you updated when we learn more about how this will affect our schools.
