Community Agreements
- We come prepared.
- We begin (with present attendees) and end on time.
- We disconnect and ENGAGE, ENGAGE, ENGAGE.
- We remain focused on the objectives and agenda.
- We confront reality – be humble, open, and transparent.
- Once we make a commitment, we are a united voice.
4Ps Template

We will use the 4Ps to communicate about teams and initiatives throughout the school. This will help ensure that we always are on the same page from the start. Each “P” is a different priority for different individuals. Some people want to know the end game. What will this actually look like if we’re successful? Some people need to know why a team exists or an initiative is being introduced in order to get behind it. Some want to know who the players are and what the roles are for each. And some of our detail-oriented friends just want the excel spreadsheet of tasks and deadlines that shows the plan.

Consider which of these is most important for you personally to really buy-in and engage on a team or with a new initiative. Discuss this as a team. What implications does this have for your work together as a community and, specifically, your communication as a team.

Use the graphic below to define your team’s 4Ps.

Informed Decisions: Provide input to help the principal make decisions

CSP Goals/Targeted supports

1. Building out IB program—Trained staff, teacher working groups, consultant, roll out of goals
2. Organizational culture—Turn Around for Children
Discussion of how the targeted supports and focus aligns with the CSP. Reviewed the overview and goals of the four CSP areas—Shared Leadership, Engagement, Culture of Achievement and Academics.

SEAT assessment is a Turn Around For Children assessment on school culture. At the next meeting we will review progress from the assessment last spring and current data.

Request to review the plans as it relates to the CSP areas. Map out the LSAT agendas based on when we would expect to see data or progress to celebrate success or talk about challenges.

Discussion around how Higher Achievement can support school objectives.

ERIC Shout outs: Shout out for community of people being present and doing the work. Responsibility for being prepared and ready to do the work. Happy for the standard of excellence and that everyone wants to hold themselves to a high standard.
